How to Use the Historical Record Collections

OVERVIEW

When you access Familysearch's Historical Record Collections, you will see that FamilySearch has provided collections for many provinces and towns in Italy. These collections include two types of records: (1) Indexed records and (2) Image-Only records that have not yet been indexed.

You need to know the difference between Indexed and Image-Only records and how to manage them. Within this document, you will find the following two sections to help you manage these record types:

2.1a – MANAGING INDEXED RECORDS.

For Indexed records, key facts (last name, first name, location, etc) have been extracted from the original record and indexes created. When you access Indexed records, you will see a search box, and can input criteria that will take you directly to the specific record.

2.1b – MANAGING IMAGE-ONLY RECORDS.

A collection of Image-Only records means that this collection has not yet been indexed. You will see the scans of the original records but will have to browse through the images manually.

STEPS

1. Sign In to FamilySearch. You need a FamilySearch account to access their historical records.
2. If you do not have a FamilySearch account, you now need to register for a Free Account (see the button in the upper right-hand corner of the webpage).

3. Access the Italy Historical Record Collections.

4. Key sections of the main Historical Record Collections webpage are highlighted below:

Legend and Notes

- 1 – Use the “Filter” to find your town name or province. Input town name or province.
- 2 – Scroll down the “Titles” to find your province and town. The list is sorted by province.
- 3 – A “Number” means these records have been indexed. You can search with a text box.
- 4 – “Browse Images” means these are “Image-Only Records.” You will have to browse manually.
- 5 – Click “Last Updated” to re-sort the list and see the most recent adds.

5. Now use the Filter – or scroll down the list – to find your PROVINCE, TOWN.

TIP	You may find one, or more, collections for your Town. Or you may only see your Province listed. Regardless, explore all possible collections to see if your Town is listed. It may be included under the wrong collection.

2.1a MANAGING INDEXED RECORDS

When you access a collection with Indexed records, you will see screens like the ones below. The key is to effectively use the search boxes (and related filters to narrow your results) to find your ancestor.

INDEXED RECORD EXAMPLE #1

For this example, click Italy, Asti, Civil Registration \(State Archive\), 1803-1814, 1911-1935.

Italy, Asti, Civil Registration (State Archive), 1803-1814, 1911-1935

Description
Civil registration (stato civile) of births, marriages, and deaths within the custody of the State Archive of Asti (Archivio di Stato di Asti). Availability of records is largely dependent on time period and locality.

Legend and Notes

- 1 – Click “Learn More” to learn more about this specific collection. It is always good to do this.
- 2 – Input “Last Name” and “First Name”(if known) in the search boxes.
- 3 – Narrow your search with the filters, if desired.
- 4 – Access the “Image-Only Records,” if desired.
- 5 – Source Citation.

For this collection, search for “Anna Vecchio” and you will see the screen below:

Anna Vecchio Italy, Asti, Civil Registration (State Archive), 1803-1814, 1911-1935	birth: 1842 Asti death: 5 February 1915 Asti, Asti, Piemonte, Italia	father: Bernardo Vecchio mother: Maria Govano spouse: Giuseppe Brignolo other: Brignolo
The following results don't strongly match what you searched for, but may be of interest.
Vecchio		child: Giovanni Vecchio

After you click on the link for “Anna Vecchio,” you will see the extracted record below:

Legend and Notes

1 – Genealogy facts that have been extracted from the original scanned record.
2 – Depending on rights restrictions, you may be able to go directly to the original scanned record.
3 – Source Citation.

If you want to see the original scanned record – which provides more information than the extracted (indexed) details shown in #1 – click on “Visit Partner Site” in #2. You will be taken directly to the original scanned record that, in this example, is located at the Ancestors Portal (Il Portale Antenati). Below is the Death Record for Anna Vecchio.

NOTE

You will be able to freely access most of the collections provided by FamilySearch. However, some collections have rights restrictions due to licensing agreements between FamilySearch and the particular State Archives (Archivio di Stato). And there is no way to know which collections are restricted until you access them.

- The next two examples show additional screens that you may encounter.

INDEXED RECORD EXAMPLE #2

INDEXED RECORD

EXAMPLE #3

In this example (Francesco Bagnoli b: 27 Apr 1883), you see FamilySearch shows the extracted details on the left side of the screen but does not provide direct access to the original scanned record, as was done in Examples #1 and #2. To see this record, you need to Sign In to FamilySearch as a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints or visit one of the Family History Centers or FamilySearch Affiliate Libraries. This rights restriction is the result of licensing agreements between FamilySearch and the Campobasso, Italy State Archives.

2.1b MANAGING IMAGE-ONLY RECORDS

It would be fantastic if all birth, marriage, and death records are indexed and accessible through online search boxes. Unfortunately, that is not the case. Just scan down the list of collections available in the Historical Record Collections and you will see most are Image-Only records (Browse Images). The good news is millions and millions of records have been scanned and are now available online. The bad news is it will take time (years) to index them all. So if you want to get access to these incredible records, you need to manually browse through the scanned images. Here are some keys to managing Image-Only records:

1. Be patient. This is a game and you must develop a strategy.
2. Quickly locate the Index or 10-Year Indexes. They may be located on the main records page or at the end (perhaps beginning) of the particular year you are searching.
3. Advance through the image-pages in chunks (e.g., 50, 100, 500 images at a time). Your objective is to find a specific reference number within a span of hundreds (thousands) of images for a targeted year, and you want to move through the images as quickly as possible.
4. In addition to looking at the information herein, take some time and review the video and text resources below. They will help you develop an effective search strategy.

 - Navigating FamilySearch Browsable Images (FamilySearch, text).

IMAGE-ONLY RECORD EXAMPLE

For this example, click Italy, Asti, Civil Registration \(Tribunale\), 1866-1910.

When you access a collection with Image-Only records, you will see screens like the ones below.

Italy, Asti, Civil Registration (Tribunale), 1866-1910

Description

Civil registration (stato civile) of births, marriages, and deaths originally microfilmed at the Asti Courthouse (Tribunale di Asti). Since the time of microfilm capture in 1995, the original records have been transferred to the Asti State Archive (Archivio di Stato di Asti). Includes ten-year indexes (indici decennali); residency records (cittadinanze); and marriage banns (pubblicazioni). Availability of records is largely dependent on time period and locality.

Legend and Notes

- 1 – Click “Learn More” to learn more about this specific collection. It is always good to do this.
- 2 – Click the link to view the images for this collection. Note the total number of images.
- 3 – Source Citation.

For this example, after you click the “Browse though … images” link, you will see the following screen in which you will have to select “Asti” from the list of provinces.

After you select “Asti,” you will now see a screen that lists the various towns with the province that have had their records scanned. Hopefully, your town is listed. For this example, choose “Cocconito.”

The screenshot shows a list of towns under the heading "Comune or Frazione". The towns are listed in two columns. A red box highlights the town "Cocconito" in the second column. Other towns listed include Cerreto d'Asti, Cerro Tanaro, Chiusano d'Asti, Cinaglio, Cisterna d'Asti, Coazzolo d'Asti, Mombercelli, Monale, Moncucco Torinese, Mondonio, Mongardino, Montafia, Montaldo, Montaldo Scarampi, Montechiaro d'Asti, San Damiano d'Asti, San Martino Alfieri, San Martino al Tanaro, San Marzano Oliveto, San Marzanotto, San Michele d'Asti, San Paolo Della Valle, San Paolo Solbrto, and Santa Margherita. The background is white with a thin black border around the main content area.

After you select “Cocconito,” you will see a screen that lists the types (and years) of records scanned. Now choose which type of record (birth, marriage, death, etc) and year you are looking for.

The screenshot shows a list of record types and years under the heading "Record Type and Year". The list is organized into four columns. The first column contains "Indici decennali (nati, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze)" with entries for 1866-1875, Nati 1866, Nati 1867, Nati 1868, and Nati 1869. The second column contains "Nati 1870, Nati 1871, Nati 1872, Nati 1873, Nati 1874, and Nati 1875". The third column contains "Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1866, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1867, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1868, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1869, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1870, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1871, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1872, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1873, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1874, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1875". The fourth column contains "Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1876, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1877, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1878, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1879, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1880, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1881, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1882, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1883, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1884, Pubblicazioni, matrimoni, morti, cittadinanze 1885". The background is white with a thin black border around the main content area.
