

Cisternino RECORDS

There are two sources for online Italian records: FamilySearch's Historical Record Collections and The National Archives of Italy's Ancestors Portal. You need to search both. The chart below provides steps on how to locate records for each.

This information was prepared for: CISTERNINO, BRINDISI, PUGLIA

Notes:

1. You need a FamilySearch account to access their Historical Record Collections. Register Here for a free account.
2. For the Historical Record Collections, read their "Description" and "Learn More" information about each collection.
3. For the Ancestors Portal, read their Current News to find the records most recently added.
4. Even though records may not be available today, they be added tomorrow. You need to check back often.
